EDITOR'S NOTE:

This volume is a special issue of the journal "Lud" published in connection with the centenary of the Polish Ethnological Society and its journal. It contains articles, the majority of which were presented as speeches and papers during the Society's jubilee celebration and the conference "The Past and Present of Polish Ethnology", held in Wrocław in 9-11 September, 1995. We hope that the articles placed in this volume will help in increasing knowledge about the history and current directions of studies of Polish ethnology – a "national" ethnology which helps constitute a whole – world ethnology and socio-cultural anthropology.
